THOMAS JEFFERSON HIGH SCHOOL
3950 SOUTH HOLLY STREET
DENVER, COLORADO 80237

THE ARISTOCRAT
VOLUME 25
1984-1985

IN THE BEGINNING . . .

In the beginning (1960) there was a large pasture south of East Hampden, a two-way street, and east of South Holly, graded and graveled but not blacktopped. And among these virgin pastures did the Denver Public Schools erect an edifice called Thomas Jefferson Junior-Senior High School.

And, lo, the feeling was good among many teachers who knew they'd be moving from a junior high school to a HIGH SCHOOL! But, as it came to pass, there were those, especially the senior class who would have graduated at South High School, who were sore offended. They came to the Promised Land with trepidation because they loved their homeland. But came they did and traditions were made that are still being followed these past 24 years.

When the pilgrims arrived, to the east were grazing cows and horses. No houses could be seen to the eastern horizon. Hampden Freeway was still in some highway engineer's imaginings, the parking lots were not paved, no landscaping was evident and yet the pilgrims (9 through 12) wended their way to 3950 South Holly.

Inside they found a brick wall surrounding a dirt pit where the auditorium was to be, the gym had been finished as had the lunchroom, classrooms were without student desks, chalk or bulletin boards. Students and teachers had to sidestep science equipment, business equipment, books and other paraphernalia stacked in the halls—and the worst—teachers and students had to put up with the banging of jackhammers, the hammering of nails, workmen coming into rooms at all times and what could generally be called “an opening but not on a grand scale.” It was easy to get lost—no rooms had numbers on them.

So traditions were born, clubs were named, publications became a reality, drama productions were presented and the mighty Spartan name became synonymous with victory in the Denver athletic league.

Down through the years TJ has blossomed into a school proud of its traditions, proud of its heritage and no longer ashamed of being that “great school on the hill.”

Thomas Jefferson High School since its inception in 1960 has serviced over 45,000 students who now can be found around the globe. It's not unusual to walk into a restaurant in Mexico City, a store in New York City, watch a film, visit the governor's office, see a World Olympics, visit Hollywood, enroll in many colleges, shop in a store, ask for legal advice and have health checked among many other varied tasks confronted today, and not find a Spartan.

“Where are you from?”

“Denver, Colorado.”

“Oh, I went to Thomas Jefferson High School. You wouldn't by chance know . . .”

With this issue of the Aristocrat, twenty-five years of memories are with over 45,000 Americans.

The opening section for this book is appropriately called

And Finally as Seniors . . .

A Class of Firsts

We were the first class to complete all three high school years at T.J. . . . we were the first Senior Class to build a Homecoming float—and win first place in competition . . . We were the class to gain the privilege of a Senior Hall . . . And thus, our traditions and spirit we leave with fond remembrance.

Sorrow . . .

An unwanted emotion,
Often lost in a flurry
of more pleasant sensations.

Masked by more acceptable displays.

But still present,
Still endured.

A tragedy occurs—

A range of feeling follows,

Shock—

Disbelief—

Frozen anger—

Tears,

Melting into dreamlike

acceptance . . .

Sorrow.

Yet out of mourning emerges

Keen sensitivity—

Self-awareness—

Rededication . . .

Faith.

Coach Controversy Disrupts Spring Sports

During a controversy concerning player eligibility, Coach Myron Willett resigned from his position as head baseball coach at T.J. He had been informed by the principal and superintendent that he was obliged to allow a boy admittedly guilty of drinking to try out for varsity baseball. A coach for over thirty years, Coach Willett refused to compromise. His resignation triggered heated reaction from students, parents, and teachers. No other Denver coach would accept Willett's job. Petitions were circulated and the Denver Classroom Teachers' Association began negotiating in Willett's behalf. When teachers threatened to cease sponsoring all after-school activities—speech events, all-school shows, publications, and sports competition—the athlete involved withdrew his demand. The baseball team finally resumed practice with Coach Willett advising and teaching the boys. The entire dispute received more public attention than any comparable event in Denver Public Schools' history.

A Beginning, An End . . . Six Years Of Tradition

"The best class ever at T.J." is a recurring term applied annually to the Senior Class. The Class of '66 has attracted this phrase too, but, while known for achievement and accomplishment, it was renowned as the first class to complete all six grades at Thomas Jefferson. This year's Seniors have actively participated in the development of school traditions. From drafting a constitution to accepting the leadership of T.J., the reputation and image that Thomas Jefferson has attained can be greatly attributed to the ability and enthusiasm of the Senior Class of 1966.

Jumping, but to no avail, Steve Krieger attempts a rebound against Pueblo's 7'2" Smith.

"We're Number One!"

"We did it!!!!!!!"

Thomas Jefferson, pre-tourney favorites to keep the state title in Denver for the fourth straight year, made a successful debut by shooting down Ranum 86-56. Steve Mountjoy led the scoring with 27 points while showing a tremendous rebounding talent by pulling down 12 big ones off the boards. On the next evening, TJ was paired against a strong Greeley Central team which had compiled a 17-1 win-loss record, their only defeat at the hands of our Spartans in an earlier practice game. Once again, TJ routed the Wildcats 81-71 as Dudley Mitchell and Roy Wilson combined for a total of 57 points. With one game left for the Seniors, the Spartans rose to the occasion winning a nip and tuck battle from the tall Pueblo Centennial Bulldogs 71-68. For the first time in our school's history, we could be proud to say that "WE'RE NUMBER ONE."

With weather conditions favorable, the long awaited Winter Carnival commenced on January 23. The first activity was the snow sculpturing contest held in the fields behind the school. All of the classes were required to build sculptures of animals from books. The winning Senior Class was awarded Color Day points for their massive entry of "Tick-Tock Croc," the reptile enemy of Captain Hook in Peter Pan. The Class of '70 constructed the whale, Moby Dick. Juniors carved Babe the Blue Ox, from the Paul Bunyan yarns. Students were not only rewarded with a good time for their labor, but received a feature article on the picture page of the Denver Post.

Activities were concluded on Thursday, January 25 in the TJ gym at "Drift," the carnival dance. The Left Side Door provided the beat until ten, when students ventured into the cold for late-night activities.

Conservative Spartans Liberally Celebrate at Jefferson Ball

Blooming cherry trees, a life-like model of placid Monticello, and crystal chandeliers set the mood for the third annual birthday tribute to Thomas Jefferson on April 12th. Amid the splendor and gala of the evening, semi-formally dressed Spartans "grooved" on the rock of "Love Special Delivery" from 9-12.

Climaxing the inaugural ball, the Jefferson Journal's annual apology for past issues, was the crowning of Bob Inman and Anne Berardini as the President and First Lady. Max Williams and Barbie Kortz, and Dave Jones and Janet Fraser were honored as royal attendants.

Politically speaking, this year's Jefferson Brawl was a liberal blast for even the most conservative party-goers. By the evenings end, all were starry-eyed and light-headed with visions of life 200 years ago.

Controversy Begins

Busing students, striking teachers, frequent bombings, and a court order, characterized the problems of which the Denver School Board was confronted throughout the year. The board did not falter during the many setbacks, instead members created a new budgeting system which provided specific cost data on school programs and allowed greater citizen participation in budget preparation. Resolutions and renovations aided in reforming the educational system in Denver. The 1970 School Board proved to be a vital asset to the institution of education as well as the community.

1970-1971

The 1970-1971 Aristocrat was the most controversial book published at TJ. It was a "war whoop of rebellion" begun and not yet ended. Student computer numbers instead of names appeared in class sections and had to be compared to the index for identification. However, the overall message was for equality and self-worth. Michael Dinner was editor this year. In 1985 he made his big-screen debut as a director for the film, "Heaven Help Us."

22 DENVER SCHOOLS CLOSED BY HEATING FUEL SHORTAGE

Because of a prolonged period of cold during winter vacation, T.J. was closed intermittently for two weeks. It seems that provisions had not been made for an emergency supply of the fuel oil that is needed to heat the building. Students returned to a full schedule the 14th of January, skied out and perhaps with a new perspective on the older generation and their "plan ahead ethics."

Conserve!!

1973 seemed to be a year of warning. It was a year of shortages, political scandals, and the energy crisis. It appeared to be giving us signs of what to expect in the future if we don't change our life styles.

The gas shortage was a hindrance to almost everyone as several gas stations kept shorter hours for extended periods of time. This shortage led to a need for better metro transit systems, harmed many businesses depending on tourist response, caused a downfall in large car productions, and called for all Americans to cooperate with new laws. The 55 m.p.h. speed limit led to a mild disturbance by the truckers with their blockades and threats. They tried to prove that their trucks got better mileage at 70 m.p.h. than at 55 m.p.h., but failed the test.

Not only was there a shortage in gas, but in foods as well. The beef shortage especially caused inconveniences among people. In Colorado, the grocer's strike added to this as many stores were forced to close, and even the ones that could remain open had counters nearly empty, as there was no one to stock them.

Another event concerning Americans and of special interest to people in Colorado was the brief appointment of former Governor John Love as Energy Czar. However, due to various circumstances, he was soon replaced by William Simon.

1973 is a year that should be looked back upon with concern. Watergate and the energy crisis are two additional events of major importance, but even these few listed are indicative of what is to come if we keep our selfish ways. The American people must work together if these problems are to end.

Graduation 1975

Our Time Has Finally Come.

Bicentennial Club

Students at Thomas Jefferson, especially seniors, have a lot to celebrate in 1976. For one thing, it is our country's 200th birthday--although by summer we may have heard too much about it. It is also Colorado's Centennial, which is a little more special since not quite as many people are talking about it. It is also election year, and leapyear. Some Americans may be somewhat cynical about electing another president, but others are more inspired to examine the candidates after past events. Of course, the most important thing happening this year is the graduation of this class of seniors. Our class has an important task to carry out.

First semester, Bicentennial Club activities included a visit to the stock show, and to the celebration of the Chinese New Year in Central City. Second semester the club elected new officers. They made plans to have an assembly in March, to attend the opening of the Opera House in Central City, to see the musical "Paint Your Wagon" at U.N.C., and to attend the Holly Horse Racing at Gateway Downs Race-track in April.

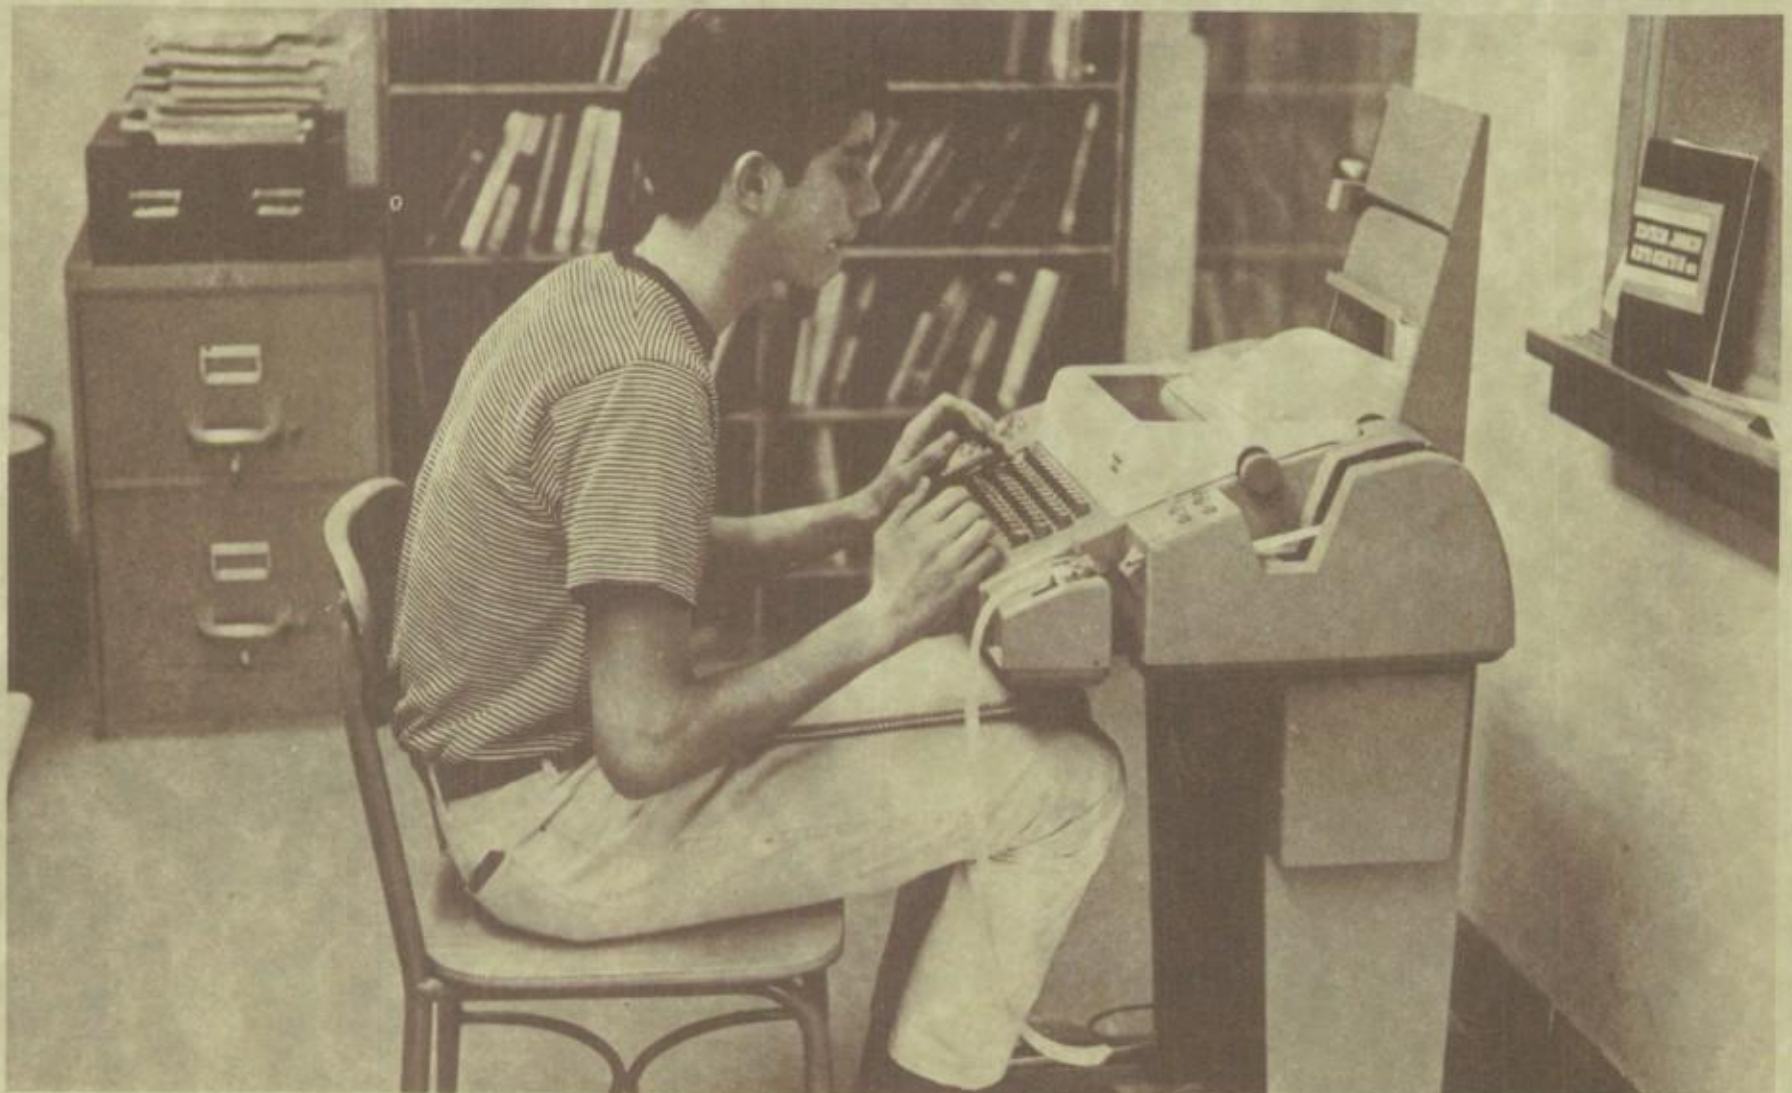

1976-1977

Age of Technology

Age of technology continued to grow and began bearing fruit in 1976-77. Above a student uses up-to-date science equipment and below, TJ's "sophisticated" computer system offered students an interesting and challenging experience.

Fads Run Gamut Over Years

A chronological sampling of American fads:

1922—More than 131,000 sets of mah-jongg, an Oriental game that combines the strategy of poker with the luck of dice and the skill of bridge, are sold for as much as $500 each. In 1923, 1.5 million would be sold, and by 1924 the fad would begin to fade.

1923—The marathon dance craze begins. The dance-till-you-drop fad would continue until the mid-1930s, when city and state governments enacted legislation to outlaw it.

1927—The first miniature golf course is opened on Lookout Mountain, Tenn. Forty thousand miniature golf courses would be built during the next three years and as many as 3 million people would participate in the pastime during the summer of 1930.

1939—A Harvard University student swallows a live goldfish on March 3 to win a $10 bet. College students begin competing to see who could swallow the most goldfish. The fad ends in April with the record for goldfish gulping at 67.

1949—Silly Putty is introduced. Thirty-two million units of the silicone clay would be sold during the next five years.

1952—Thirty million Beanies—bill-less caps topped by spinning propellers—are sold.

1952—Two thousand University of Missouri students rampage through dormitories in the first documented panty raid. Panty raids would continue through 1957, with occasional resurgences throughout the '60s and '70s.

1955—Walt Disney's version of the Davy Crockett legend, with Fess Parker playing Crockett, touches off a seven-month coonskin-cap craze.

1957—Wham-O introduces the Hula Hoop, fashioned after a bamboo ring used for exercise classes in Australia, and sells 20 million of the $1.98 plastic rings by September 1958. The craze would end by November 1958.

1959—Twenty-five South African students jam into a telephone booth, starting a world-wide college fad that ends the same year with 32 California students squeezing their way into the record books.

1961—The Twist dancing fad starts and inspires a commercial binge of Twist furniture, Twist clothing and Twist hairdos. By 1967, the fad that inspired such spinoff dances as the Mashed Potato, the Monkey and the Jerk would become passe.

1964—The first American tour by The Beatles touches off Beatlemania.

1967—Smiley buttons appear. During the next 10 years the happy-face symbol would adorn T-shirts, stickers, napkins, notebooks, coffee mugs and, seemingly, almost everything else.

1972—Pong becomes the first video-game fad. After Pong, interest in video games would decline until the introduction of Space Invaders in 1977 and Pac-man in 1980.

1974—Streaking, a fad confined for the most part to college campuses, peaks in March and April. Occasional streaking incidents would be reported through 1977.

1983—Cabbage Patch Kids, dolls with computer-designed faces, become the rage of the Christmas season.

1984—Michael Jackson's Thriller album, released in 1982, becomes the largest-selling record in music history with sales of more than 25 million. Jackson's popularity spawns the sales of sequined gloves and influences clothing fashions and dancing.

1985—Furniture: Atomic age furniture, lacquered furniture, black and white. Food: Tofutti, sun-dried tomatoes, angel hair pasta. Fashion: Pixie haircuts on women, layered socks, patches and patchwork, wearing your shirttail out, vests, cufflinks and studs. Travel: Texas, London, Van pools, bed and breakfast inns. People: Marlon Jackson, Mozart, Eddie Murphy, babies, Bill Cosby. Entertainment: Opera, VCRs, board games, bicycling, off-off Broadway, training for triathalons. Denver: Reynelda Muse, mountain homes, living downtown, shopping downtown, walking to work, film festival, car pools, imagining a great city.

Through an outstanding season of hard work and dedication, the 1980 Guys' LaCrosse team earned the title of State Champions. The State game was one of intensity and excellence as Kent Country Day fought tough but not tough enough to conquer the Spartans. The game went into sudden-death overtime with T.J. finishing on top with the score at 7-6. Congratulations to the Championship team, coaches, sponsors and all the supporters of T.J. LaCrosse!

1980-1981

The magic wand of "Cinderella's god-mother" continued to weave its spell as the Girl's Varsity Basketball Team advanced through District competition to the state finals.

The Glass Slipper

Often cast as the "Cinderella" school of the Denver 4A and State 4A league, two TJ powerhouses, the 1981 football team and the 1981 basketball team proved that, yes "you can find the glass slipper." Thomas Jefferson's varsity team, cast as one of the underdogs during the state basketball tournament, not only surprised the media but advanced to the finals, losing there to Fairview thus becoming the second-place 4A basketball champions of the State of Colorado. Congratulations!

Spartans Raise Voices in Song and Speech

A varied curriculum allowed Spartans to pursue many endeavors—from the tedium of regular academic work to classes which brought forth gifts and talents of many. A strong vocal and instrumental music program as well as an outstanding speech program contributed to the Spartan mosaic.

Showtime!

McGregor's Beggars is considered one of the top high school entertainment groups in Colorado. They are kept busy throughout the year entertaining TJ and the Colorado community.

They sing at elementary and junior high schools, nursing homes, hospitals, and a wide range of social activities. During the holiday season the Beggars perform nearly every day all over the city. They also perform benefit concerts. A highlight of the year was the annual concert to benefit Ridge Home, an institution for the mentally and physically handicapped.

(Clockwise, beginning below) Christmas cheer!; Miranda Blakely, accompanist; first show of the year; potluck; "Put on a happy face." Thanks, Mr. Mac!

McGregor's Beggars

1983-1984 proved to be the last year for the existence of McGregor's Beggars as John McGregor, director, retired at the end of the school year. Successor to the popular singing group is called "Monticello Singers."

1984

Faces, names linger in memory as year fades

IT WAS a year often dominated by big names. President Reagan captured the country's attention and ran all over Walter Mondale. Singer Michael Jackson zoomed around the country with his tour, including a visit to Denver. And gymnast Mary Lou Retton captured the nation's fancy in the Olympics.

The 1984 headlines in Denver often focused on politicians such as Gov. Richard D. Lamm and Mayor Federico Peña.

But there were many others making news.

They spoke out when they saw injustices — and sometimes suffered the consequences.

They found personal victory — and then quietly went on with their lives.

They made us laugh over their folly. And cry over their tragedies.

The Years Move on

These are not in the future:

Out furnishings: Brass, floral sheets, answering machines, Dhurries, overdone country, chintz, fussy floral displays. Out food: Pasta salads, sprouts, tofu, brie, sushi, chocolate chip cookies, croissants, mesquite cooking, kiwi, cappuccino. Out fashion: Fingerless gloves, sloppiness, mannish underwear, miniskirts, running shoes worn with business attire, briefcases, sunglasses named after sports cars, gelled hair, gender bending. Out travel: Santa Fe, time-share resorts, station wagons, Dallas and Houston, package trips to Mexico, Las Vegas. Out people: Michael Jackson, Johnny Carson, Joan Rivers, Joan Collins, Jane Fonda, Francis Ford Coppola, Tom Selleck, Burt Reynolds, John Travolta, Elizabeth Taylor, Robert De Niro, Dan Rather, Faye Dunaway, Sylvester Stallone, Mary Decker, Bob Guccione, John De Lorean, Clara Peller, Mr. T., beauty queens. Just out: Movie remakes, celebrity beauty books, smoking, happy hour, theme discos, break dancing, boxing. Out at TJ: Graduating without the basic essentials — 1985 became the year of accountability and a "back to the basics" movement.

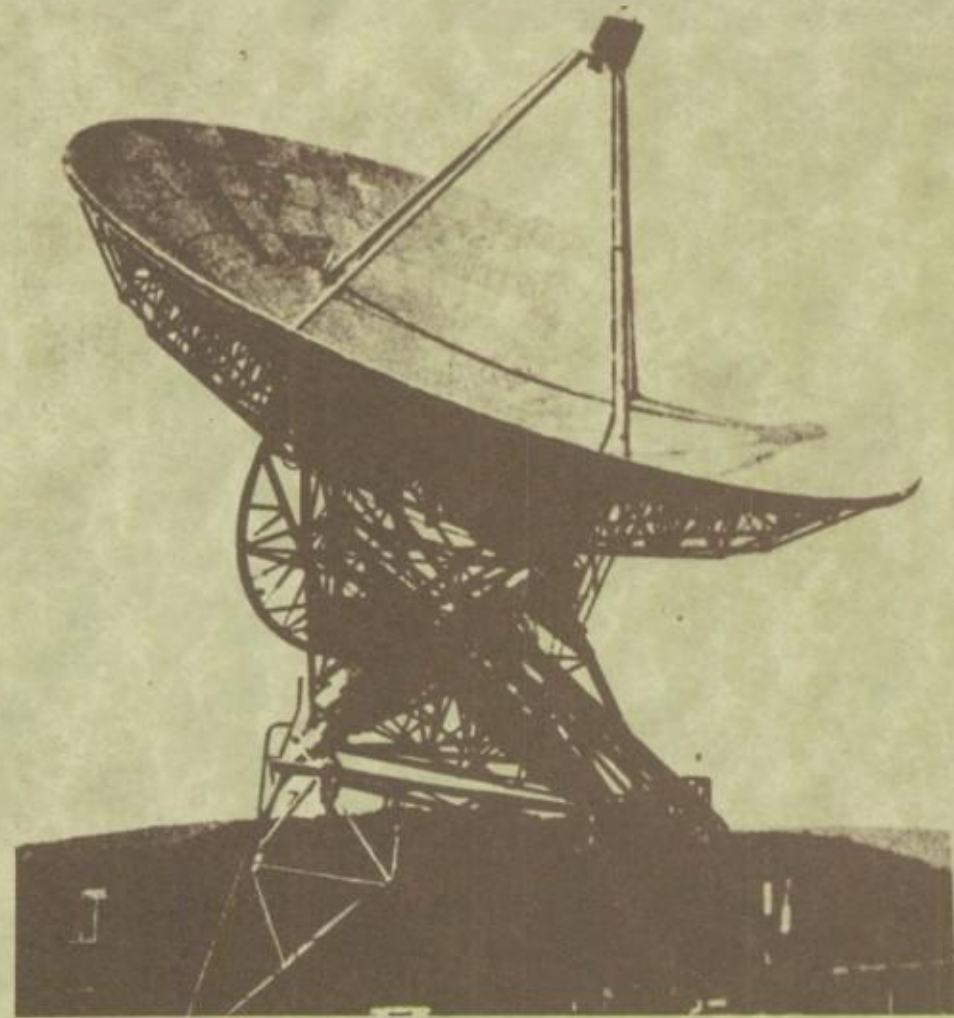

1984-1985

And What Does the Future Hold?

The world has survived the dire predictions of George Orwell in his book published in the 40s and again became a best-seller in 1984. George Lucas' film "Star Wars" became more than a film, it became a watchword of the Pentagon.

Renewed academic interest, a surge of patriotism enhanced by the '84 Olympics, sense of purpose in the student body predicted a return to the "normalcy" of the golden years of education. A landslide election of President Ronald Reagan seemed to indicate a voting public "satisfied with the status quo."

A futuristic movie had as its theme the next 25 years — "2010." As Thomas Jefferson High School continues to be an outstanding Denver public high school, what will the next 25 years bring? If we only knew . . .

Media Have Created a Fad, Fad World

Orlando Sentinel

Is there anybody left who hasn't heard of Michael Jackson? Is there some remote patch of American soil where inhabitants have not yet witnessed break dancing? Could there be a soul somewhere who has not yet uttered the words "Where's the beef?"

Back when there were more homes with indoor toilets than with television sets, the nation's fads may not have reached everyone. Today, however, even people who don't have access to the mass media are exposed to fads. Invariably they know someone who watches television, listens to radio or reads newspapers and magazines — the media that disseminate news of the nation's passions.

"One of the things that causes fads to be different now than in the past is our mass culture with its access to instant images," says Thomas Plaut, assistant chief of behavioral-science research at the National Institute of Mental Health in Washington, D.C. "A month and a half ago, if there were 10,000 people who knew who Mary Lou Retton was, that was a lot. Now there are hundreds of millions who know who she is. Fads can spread rapidly and become a part of the shaped culture."

By exposing an entire nation to fads, the mass media both promote fads and hasten their burn-out, says Ralph Lowenstein, dean of the University of Florida's communication school.

"Mass communications accelerate fads because of the speed of bringing forth the visual image. A fad that might have taken a long time to build up to a peak 100 years ago can become a sensation overnight and disappear very rapidly," says Lowenstein. "If the Hula Hoop craze came in today it would last half as long as it did then."

Evidence of the nation's susceptibility to fads and crazes is found in the junk drawers, closets and toy boxes of American's households. There you find the artifacts of our diversions: Rubik's Cubes, feathered cowboy hats, Smiley buttons, white disco suits, E.T. toys, Pet Rocks, Farrah Fawcett posters and Cabbage Patch Kids dolls.

With almost predictable regularity, America becomes enamored with certain articles of clothing, styles of dance, phrases of speech and types of amusements. Taken together, the fads of any given period provide a snapshot of society.

During the Depression, for example, the "Prosperity Club" chain-letter craze produced 95,000 extra pieces of mail a day in Denver. The Ouija board, patented in 1892, first caught on during World War I when Americans were desperate to learn anything, in any way possible, about the fate of their relatives overseas. Ouija sales dropped after the war and didn't pick up again until World War II. Similarly, the fitness-conscious 1970s and '80s have seen the rise and fall of numerous diets and exercise fads.

Fads provide a common experience for millions of people and, often, millions of dollars for the purveyors of the short-lived interests in American life.

Cabbage Patch Kids dolls earned $80 million for Coleco Industries last year to help offset the millions the company lost on its home computer. In 1958, 30 million people bought Hula Hoops. Another million people paid $4 each for Pet Rocks in 1975. At its height in 1982, the Cambridge Diet was taking in nearly $500 million a year.

Crazes, fads and fashion are variations of the same collective-behavior response. All three deal essentially with the popular discovery of a new idea or the rediscovery of an old idea by a small group. Crazes — such as get-rich chain letters and land-boom schemes — generally involve some element of economic opportunity and the belief that the chance is fleeting. Fads are usually spontaneous, sporadic movements that often challenge established values or styles. Fashion is institutionalized, continuous change that is more predictable than fads. Fashion tends to trickle down from the upper class, while fads frequently originate in the middle or lower classes.

Although the duration of fads varies, all fads go through similar stages. Fads begin with new or rediscovered ideas, but novelty isn't the only criterion. Fads that catch on often involve the opportunity for innovation or for variations on the fad's basic theme. For example, "Where's the beef?" spoke to a common concern of fast-food customers, but its use became epidemic when applied to situations that had nothing to do with hamburgers.

No one has been able to predict what will become a fad, since the dynamics of what makes something catch on vary tremendously. A single fad may appeal to different people for different reasons. But there are certain characteristics that make one society more susceptible to fads than another.

In a society with problems and perplexities, there is a great need for scholars — men and women who are willing and able to seek out and learn those matters which will be of value to themselves and their society. After twelve years of public education, the senior cannot yet be called a true scholar, but he has reached the point in life at which he knows when to seek and where to find.

academics

The role of the teacher as a giver of knowledge has never been belittled. But his part as a catalyst, continually regenerating the spark of the light in education, has often been overlooked. The ability of our teachers to fill both roles has given us reason to honor them with the title, educator.

"TJ's the best!"

Out of an average faculty size of 130 throughout the years, only fourteen of the original faculty in 1960-61 remain at Thomas Jefferson.

Although most of the changes in twenty-five years have been caused by retirement, promotion or transfers, the "faithful fourteen" say,

"We're here because TJ is the best school in the State of Colorado and the County of Denver."

Halftime acrobatics

Annual Homecoming festivities kicked off the morning of October 13 with a breakfast in the cafeteria followed by sales of various items by classes and the "grand prix" — the chariot races. This year's contest was won by the Class of 1986.

After the races, cars were decorated and a parade formed to follow the Spartans (victorious in their game over North) to All-City stadium for the game half-time ceremonies.

After the game, students returned to the practice field at TJ where festivities continued with various events. A balloon from Columbia Savings gave free rides to students who had winning tickets.

That evening in the TJ gyms, Homecoming was highlighted by "Night of Silver Memories" where Deadre Green and Tom Almon were crowned king and queen.

Music 'n' Movies

Two of the most relaxing and entertaining avenues for teenagers today are movies and music—maybe some television, but “that’s at-home stuff.” Most conversations in classes and in the halls are sprinkled with such phrases as “did you catch . . . ?”, “a bomb, a stinker,” “boy, that was one great movie!”, “goin’ to the concert tonight?”, all relating to the media of the screen, the radio, the concert hall.

Pictured here are the five Oscar nominees for Best Picture and these pictures reflect a great year in the movie business. Left panel, top to bottom, “A Soldier’s Story” starring Howard E. Rollins, Jr.; “Places in the Heart” starring Sally Field; “A Passage to India,” a big-scale epic from David Lean; “Amadeus” with Tom Hulce as Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart; and below right, “The Killing Fields,” a graphic and spellbinding story of a journalist and his friend in Cambodia. “Amadeus” was selected best picture.

Top Singles

As the yearbook went to press, these were the top singles according to Billboard magazine:

1. “Like a Virgin,” Madonna
2. “All I Need,” Jack Wagner
3. “You’re the Inspiration,” Chicago
4. “I Want to Know What Love Is,” Foreigner
5. “Born in the U.S.A.,” Bruce Springsteen
6. “Easy Lover,” Philip Bailey
7. “Run to You,” Bryan Adams
8. “The Wild Boys,” Duran Duran
9. “We Belong,” Pat Benatar
10. “Careless Whisper,” Wham!

Donkey Basketball

Thomas Jefferson Key Club sponsored a donkey basketball game on Saturday, February 2. The Crosby Donkey Show is from Chippewa Falls, Wisconsin. Proceeds from the event were used to send Key Clubbers to a leadership convention that was held in March.

The event was successful and proved to be very entertaining and funny, Andy Aragon, sponsor, said. The players had to be mounted on a donkey to pass, shoot and score. Players were selected from several of the various athletic teams, Key Club, the faculty, administration and the Kiwanis Club. Altogether there were 32 players. Key Club also had one very special guest, the KIMN chicken — especially popular with the children.

Principal Conklin says, "Whoa!"

Now we know how Sam Batey makes it around the halls so fast! Left, Patience is the answer. (Pictures by Sam Shank)

Pizza Pushers

Members of the Class of 1985 went into the pizza business in February under the leadership of Joel Pomerantz who did an excellent job in coordinating the effort. From the fundraising the class realized over $1,000. Pizzas were pre-sold then a nucleus of the class met in the cafeteria on February 13 to make the 450 plus pizzas sold—from cardboard platter, then crust, a cup of pizza sauce, then cheese and oregano, then pepperoni (20 slices, kids!), sausage and for the supreme the peppers, et al.

Salesmen picked up the pizza from the assembly line and served as delivery persons. Rhonda Crayton's team won the sales contest and members could make their own pizzas. Did they stack it on! Jay*Jye Hitch was highest salesmen with 44 pizzas sold. Class of 1986 looked on in envy—so that means a second "annual" pizza crunch next year.

Top to bottom: Assembly line goes to work (don't give too big a dab!); Truitt, Green and Warmath spreadin' the sauce and tossin' the cheese. Jane Crane from the fundraising organization explains the process.

Top to bottom: Carol Forkner knows on which side her pizza is cheesed! Final Ritzy step and a hot one—puttin' on the plastic—what fun!

A Review

by Amy Shatz

The opening play of the 1984-1985 drama season was "Charley's Aunt." This adaptation was directed by Harry Schanker with help from student director Allison Truitt. The play, from all aspects, was a smashing success.

David Arca, with his hilarious portrayal of a man who dresses up as a woman, clearly stole the show.

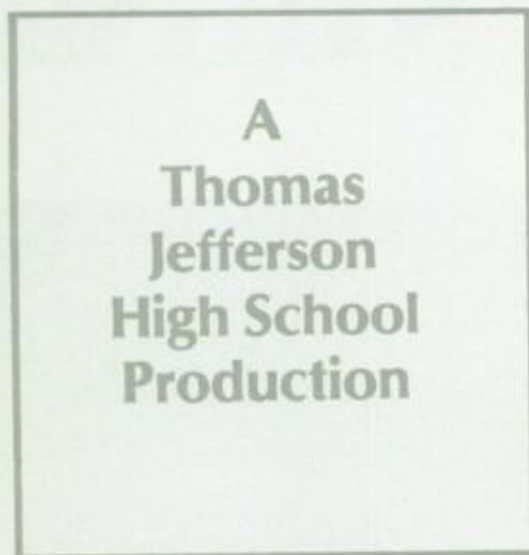

Equally fine in her role as the real aunt, Kathy Ross seemed to adapt to her role and to the rest of the cast. Ross played to the audience and acted her role to the hilt.

Kevin Hayes was Jack Chesney, Charley's college friend. His role moved the action of the play along. His interpretation of the character was well done and his English accent was polished.

Following the performance, Hayes commented that "a lot of adverse problems before the play helped the cast to pull together." Several costumes and a prop were stolen during rehearsals.

State Semi-finalists

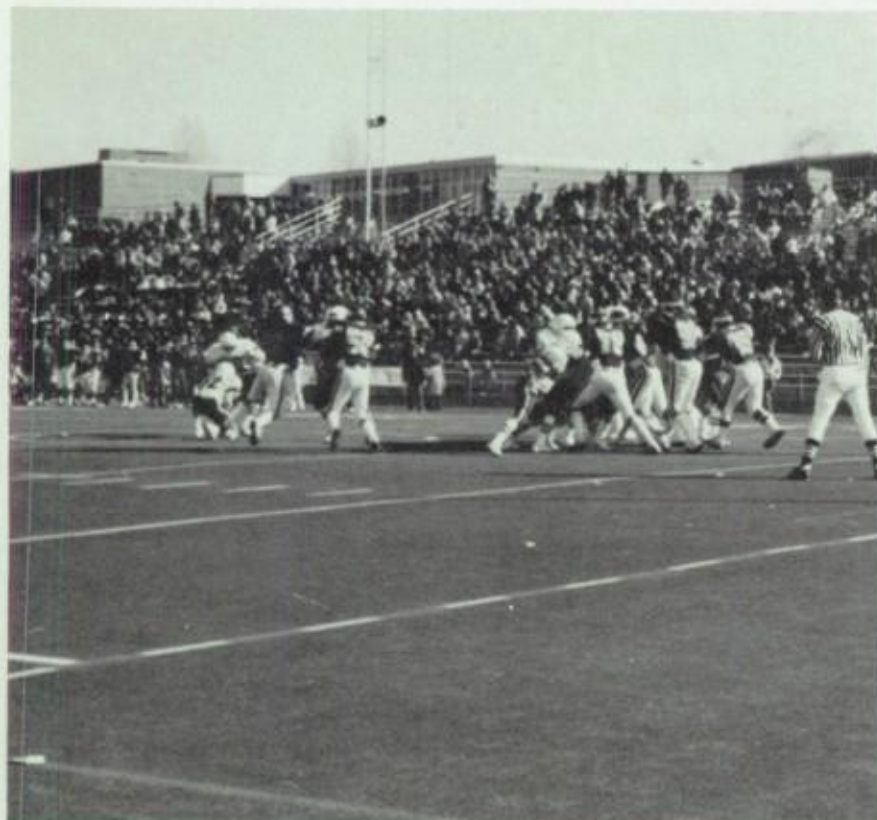

The Varsity Football team had a great season, taking the City title and finishing #2 in the final polls. The only blemish on their 12-1 record came from Arvada in the State semi-finals. The team was led by returning starters: John Maxwell, Russ Porter, Eric Coleman, Joe Hornback, Bryan Schiff, Alonzo Hampton and David Epstein. Next year's team will be based around Gary McCummings, Oscar Cedillos, Derek Wright, Roland Martin, Mark Holmes and Scott Emeson.

The T.J. offense set a state record for points scored with 459 for an average 35.3 pts. per game. John Maxwell led the state in scoring in his All-City year as well as being the leading rusher. Junior Oscar Cedillos also made All-City as quarterback. The line was led by Bryan Schiff and Gary McCummings, another All-League performer.

The T.J. "Border Patrol" defense gave up only 127 total points. Dave Epstein, Derrick Wright (both All-League) along with Roland Martin provided a great defensive line while Joe Hornback returned at linebacker for another All-City season. Alonzo Hampton, Eric Coleman and John Maxwell combined for an excellent secondary.

What a year for the Men's Soccer team. This was a season for bigger and better opportunities. Unfortunately, a mishap with Wheatridge put Thomas Jefferson out of the race for State. This was a good year for those who were honored to be chosen for the All-State teams. This included Louie Meay and Mustafa Noorazi. TJ students should all look forward to next year for another outstanding season.

Although the team will lose many to graduation, both Varsity and Junior Varsity promise to be tough again next year with the returning lettermen and a strong response from the younger players.

When final golf match play ended for the Denver Prep League, TJ placed third in city behind East and Manual, who tied as league champs.

Top individual honors went to Christoph (C.C.) Milne who finished with a season average of 79.4. Tom Almon was #10 with an average of 83.2, and Melanie Warmath ranked #14 with an 84.8 average.

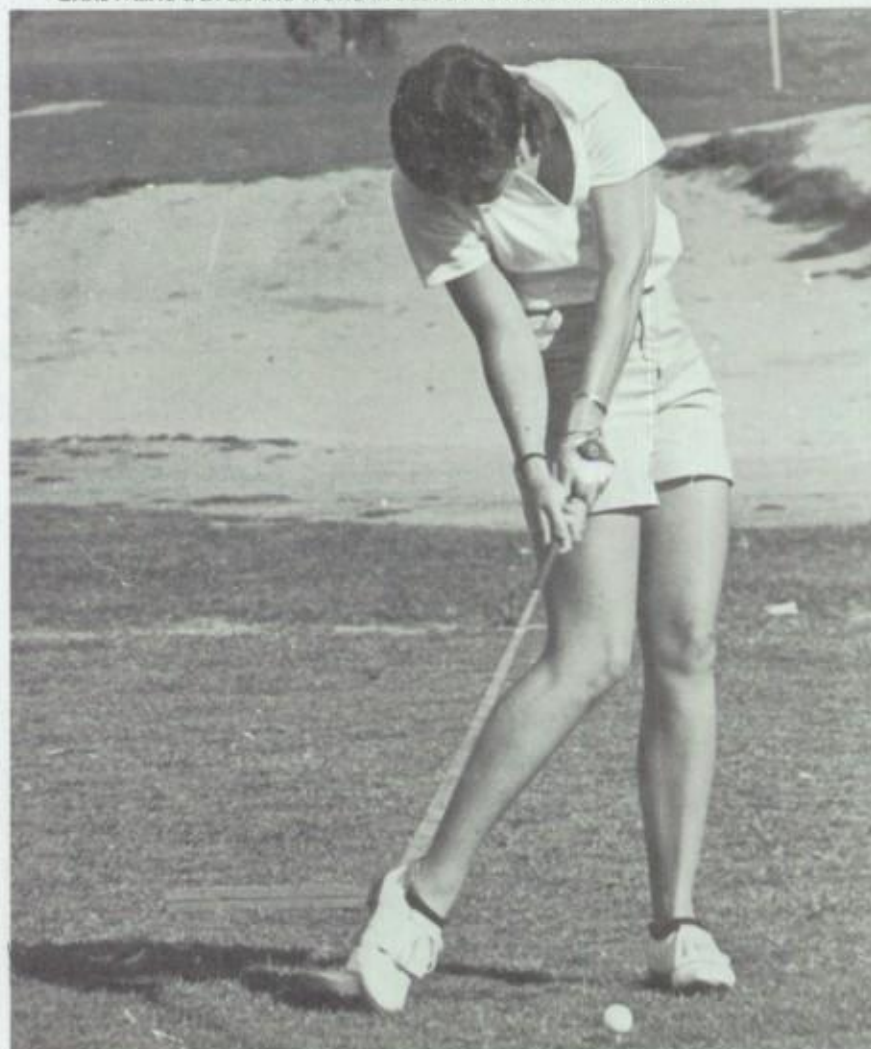

Although the team did not do as well as planned, Chris Milne can be expected with co-hort and very close companion William Aurther to produce another outstanding year in '85.

There is not a bit of doubt that Cindi Albi, Debby Young, Susan Leety, and Missy Morgan won't be the force behind another winning season.

Some of the outstanding first-year runners were Diana Romero and Rex Canady, both of whom placed very well in Denver. Other stand-outs included Jason Smith, Nadia Noorzai, Steve Lugger, Adam Gotlieb and Anne Paciaroni.

Risks

To laugh is — to risk appearing the fool.
To weep is — to risk appearing sentimental.
To reach out for another is — to risk involvement.
To expose feelings is — to risk exposing your true self.
To place your ideas, your dreams before the crowd is — to risk their loss.
To love is — to risk not being loved in return.
To live is — to risk dying.
To hope is — to risk despair.
To try is — to risk failure.

But risks must be taken, because the greatest hazard in life is to risk nothing. The person who risks nothing, does nothing, has nothing and is nothing. He may avoid suffering and sorrow, but he simply cannot learn, feel, change, grow, love — live. Chained by his certitudes, he is a slave, he has forfeited freedom.

Only a person who risks is free.

A disappointment came to TJ this year as the Men's Basketball team did not play to their potential. Finishing the season with about a .500 record, the team will look for improvement next year. Outstanding players to watch were Brad Hagestad, Joe Hornback and Harry Hollines. Next year looks brighter with many new and returning players. Good luck, men.

TJ basketballers suffered from lack of tall players to rebound and dunk; however, the team never gave up the spirit of winning and went into every game with Spartan pride. Powerhouses West, George Washington and Manual came to the front—but watch out for the same time next year!

This year had many good times. With all the new players, the Junior Varsity finished with a nice record. Under the direction of Coach Len Ashford the players gained new basketball skills throughout the whole year. Many players excelled through practice and games, such players as Dedan Butler, Tony Smith, Greg Thorell and others. Expect another good season next year from this Thomas Jefferson team.

Women's Varsity Basketball

The T.J. Women's Basketball Team had a super year. They had a few ups and downs this season, but hung tough to finish second in the D.P.L. Even after losing one of their top players, Tiffany Knott, the girls maintained one of the state's top rankings. Starting leaders included, two-time All-City selection Andrea Ransom, Senior Amy Pederson, Juniors Cindi Albi and Missy Morgan, and Sophomore Valerie Spencer. The ladies made a great showing this year and look to be good again next year.

SPRING SPORTS

Indispensable

Some day when you're feeling important
Some day when your ego's in bloom
Some day when you have the feeling
You're the most important in the room,
Take a bucket and fill it with water,
Stick your hand in up to the wrist.
Pull it out, and the hole that remains
Is a measure of how much you'll be missed.
You may splash all you wish when you enter.
Stir the water around galore,
But you find when you finally leave it,
It's exactly the same as before.
So, as you follow your daily agenda,
Always do the best that you can.
Be proud of yourself, but remember
There is no indispensable man.

1985 Women's Track Team

The Women's Track Team was led by Andrea Ransom, Shenelle Martin and Averi Mitchell under Coaches White and Madrid.

Super Spartans

The Thomas Jefferson Super Spartans are a select group picked on the basis of their academic and athletic achievements along with contribution to the school by Bryan Schiff and David Epstein with input by several members of the senior class. They have all been very active during their years at T.J. and are considered to be true T.J. Spartans.

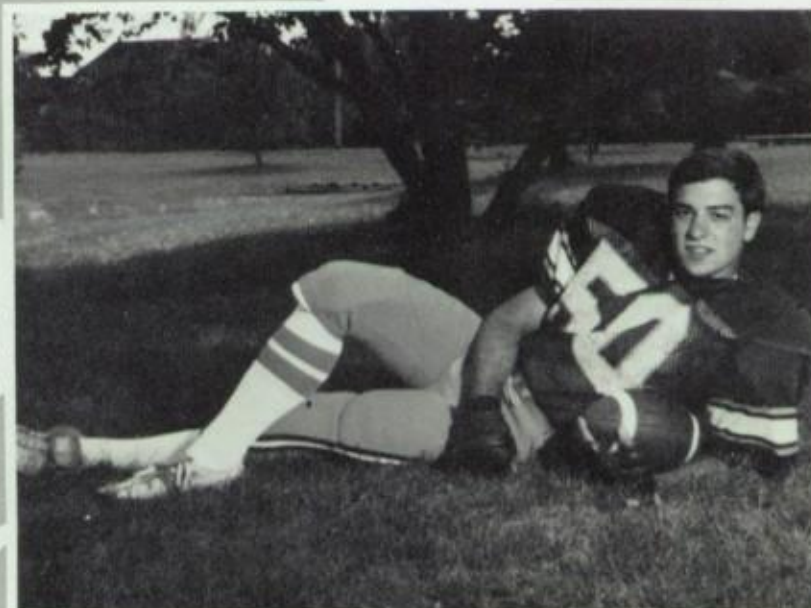

Andrea Ransom

Andrea Ransom has been a part of T.J.'s sport scene for three consecutive years. Andrea has had the honor to be one of two young ladies to letter nine times in three different sports: cross-country, basketball and track. Andrea's senior year was highlighted by well-deserved honors in all three sports. The Girls' Cross-Country team was fourth in the city; the Girls' Basketball Team was rated top ten in the state; and the Track Team was one of the top contenders in the DPL league. Andrea received many awards due to her athletics including First Team All-City Basketball for three consecutive years, an individual article in the Mile High Prep newspaper, and a three-time state qualifier in track. Although athletics is one of Andrea's forte, school academics is her #1 priority. She holds a 4.2 GPA and plans to attend U.C.L.A. where she hopes to major in Computer Science.

Bryan Schiff

If a major theme of T.J. is diversity, then Bryan Schiff is a true representative of a T.J. student. Bryan has been very active in the T.J. sports scene these past three years. He has played football all three years, starting and lettering for the varsity team his junior and senior years. As a senior he was selected as an Honorable Mention All-City guard. His sophomore year he played LaCrosse, but returned to baseball for his junior and senior years. This year he hopes to make All-City. Bryan is also on the Silver anniversary Yearbook staff sports department, while being active in the Spanish club and the National Honor Society. He is a member of the Graduation Committee. Academically, Bryan is seventh in the Senior Class with a G.P.A. of 4.59 and has received a letter of commendation for his outstanding achievement on the PSAT which also qualified him as a National Merit semi-finalist. Next year Bryan will attend the Business School of the University of Colorado.

Tiffany Knott

During her three years at T.J., Tiffany Knott has lettered in every sport and every season in which she has participated. While in her sophomore year, she was involved in J.V. and Varsity basketball and started the Varsity soccer team. As a junior, she tried volleyball for the first time and lettered, playing both J.V. and Varsity. Also that year, Tiffany started both the Varsity basketball team and soccer teams. In her senior year, her main position on the Varsity volleyball team was striker; the team took the city championship. She started Varsity basketball and plans to play soccer again this spring. She has lettered twice in volleyball, twice in soccer and three times in basketball. Along with her school sports, she has played two seasons of A.A.U. basketball. Tiffany was also on a tennis team for three years and played on a co-ed football team. Her plans are to continue playing sports at Fort Lewis College and to become a Veterinary Technician. Tiffany suffered a knee injury while competing in basketball this year and retired for six weeks to recuperate.

Joe Hornback

Joe Hornback currently has a G.P.A. of 3.95 and is in the top 10% of his class. Joe has been involved in athletics at T.J. since his sophomore year, lettering in football, basketball and baseball. His teams have reached the state playoffs in football twice, basketball once, and baseball three times. In his junior year he was voted second team All-City defense in football, and first team All-City at 2nd base in baseball.

In his senior year Joe made first team All-City defense in football and the Joint Effort all star team. Joe was also picked to be captain of the football, basketball and baseball teams. Due to his great skill and grades, Joe was picked as a candidate for the Denver Post's Golden Helmet Award. In addition to everything else, Joe has also found time to work with the handicapped in the Special Olympics program. Joe looks to continue with athletics in college but intends to concentrate on furthering his education.

Barb Boland

Barb Boland has competed on a competitive AAU year-round swimming team for fourteen years. She lettered and qualified for the State Championships all three years on the T.J. women's swimming team, and her senior year she was co-captain and placed at State. She also received the Jim Hartman Award, given to the Outstanding Senior Women's Athlete in Denver for swimming. Besides swimming, Barb participated on the Lacrosse team her sophomore year, and was selected to play in the All Star Lacrosse State Tournament. Outside of sports, Barb is very active in school activities. She has been in the Pre-Med Club, Ski Club, Drama Club, Lacrosse Club, and is currently a member of Atherfies and National Honor Society. She was in Concert Choir her sophomore and junior years, and enjoys singing very much. Her junior year she was a junior escort, and was also the T.J. nomination and competitor in the Japan/U.S. Senate Scholarship Program. During her senior year she is a student representative on the School Improvement and Accountability Committee. She is also Chairman of Prom Committee, and very active on the Senior Luncheon, Mr. T.J., and Graduation Committees. Barb has a GPA of a 4.27, and hopes to attend the University of California at Santa Barbara for college.

Brad Handler

Brad Handler has had three very exciting years at T.J. He has been an ardent student, and was consistently ranked in the top 5% of his class. Has also participated in many extracurricular activities. Brad played varsity tennis for two years, was in three drama productions and has participated in forensics for two years. His forensic talent has sent him all over the country to speak. From 1984-1985, Brad has won dozens of tournaments in extemporaneous speaking, including the 1984 State Championship, the Governor Shafroth Tournament, and the Golden-Mullen meet. Other school projects include National Honor Society and the Adopt-A-School Program. Brad also served for a year as an Executive Intern to Lieutenant Governor Nancy Dick. At present, Brad is deciding between law and politics or computer science as possible majors in college.

Amy Shatz

Amy Shatz has attended T.J. since her sophomore year. Last year, she took off a semester to attend Canyon del Oro High School in Tucson, Arizona. She has lettered three times in gymnastics and served as co-captain of the city championship team this year. Amy has spent two years on the staff of the Jefferson Journal and was managing editor her senior year. Amy has also been a member of Atherfies, Graduation Committee, Mr. TJ Pageant Committee, Spanish Club, and a candy striper at Rose Medical Center. Earlier in her senior year Amy was featured as one of Channel 4's Super Students. Amy hopes to attend Harvard, Cornell or Boston University next year.

David Epstein

David Epstein has been involved in T.J. since his sophomore year. Starting with athletics, David has played football and LaCrosse. In his senior year David was elected to first-team All-City, first-team Joint Effort All-Stars, and second team All-State for his outstanding ability as a defensive end in football. On the LaCrosse field David is a defenseman as well as an officer in the club. David has served on the Student Council as All-School President. He is also active in the Speech Club where he competes in extemporaneous speaking. David is on the staff of the 25th Anniversary Aristocrat yearbook. In his spare time, David enjoys working with animals. He owns a four-year-old registered American-bred Quarter Horse which he rides regularly. He also has raised and trained a Golden Retriever dog with whom he spends much of his free time. David is also active in a youth group and held the persidency of his chapter his junior year. David plans to attend either Colorado College or Colorado State University.

Julie Heflen

Julie Heflen has been very active in her years at T.J. She has lettered in Girls' swimming twice. In addition, she is the secretary-treasurer of the Drama Club, has played in South Pacific, Charlie's Aunt and Joseph, along with being in the orchestra of Annie. She is also active on the stage crew. Julie is also secretary of the National Honor Society and was a class representative in her junior year. She will graduate in the top 10% of her class.

The TJ Cheerleaders, one of the many spirited groups in the school, started their year off by presenting the school with a grand championship trophy which was won at camp in August. The group reorganized in September after Stephen Nye took over sponsorship of the squad. In working closely with the Pep Club and Student Council, the Cheerleaders have played a key role in boosting the spirit and morale of the student body at Thomas Jefferson.

Journal Rated Fourth Best Newspaper in Colorado

The Jefferson Journal, school newspaper, is a communication instrument for the citizens of TJ and the TJ community with a circulation each month of 2,100. Newspapers are mailed home by members of the LEAF organization.

The publication with its modern graphic outlook has been rated fourth best newspaper in the state by the Colorado Press Association, bested by Number one Cherry Creek and other Aurora and Douglas County schools which boast a much higher budget for production. The Journal receives $2,000 a year as a subsidy from the school district and must make up other operational and printing costs from student sales and advertising.

This year an IBM-PC computer was added to the staff office in Room 217 which is used by both the Journal and the Aristocrat yearbooks.

The Thomas Jefferson Marketing and Distributive Education Club is one of the most successful DECA programs in the state. Under the leadership of Danny Weiss, the chapter president, and the Chapter Officer Team during 1984-85, many accomplishments were made. Among the achievements were four district offices and forty-two state competition qualifiers. The Chapter held many fundraisers to help sponsor District, State, and National competitors. These fundraisers utilized the business skills of the chapter members.

Some of the planned events TJ DECA involved the students with were the installation ceremony, "Buddy" luncheon, Kris Kringle holiday activities, ski trip, employer/employee banquet, orientation and election breakfast, and the Spring Break trip.

The Chapter is extremely proud of its work with May D&F in providing inventory and sales assistance and encouragement of other companies to promote "Free Enterprise."

In addition, the Chapter Officers would like to thank its Advisory Committee members under the direction of chairman, Steve Mithuen, for the many hours of helpful services provided this year.

The TJ choirs were very active this year presenting school assemblies, community concerts and evening programs. In addition to performing a Fall Concert, Winter Holiday Concert and Music in Our Schools Week concert, all the choirs sang and danced in the Spring Musical Arts Festival at TJ. Eight singers sang with Barry Manilow at McNichols Stadium, fifteen choir members were chosen for membership in the DPS Citywide High School Choir, and the Silver Anniversary Choir travelled to Alamosa, Colorado, to sing in the Adams State College Choir Festival in the fall, and to California to sing at Disneyland, Knott's Berry Farm, and Sea World during Spring Break.

The Aristocrat, 1960-61

a living memorial to thomas jefferson

Student Government

When we think of Thomas Jefferson, we think of him as an aristocrat who loved his country and his fellowman. We also think of him as the author of the Declaration of Independence, but Jefferson was a man of many separate avocations.

He was:

Musician

Politician

Sportsman

Educator

Agriculturist

Architect

Lawyer

Scientist

Writer

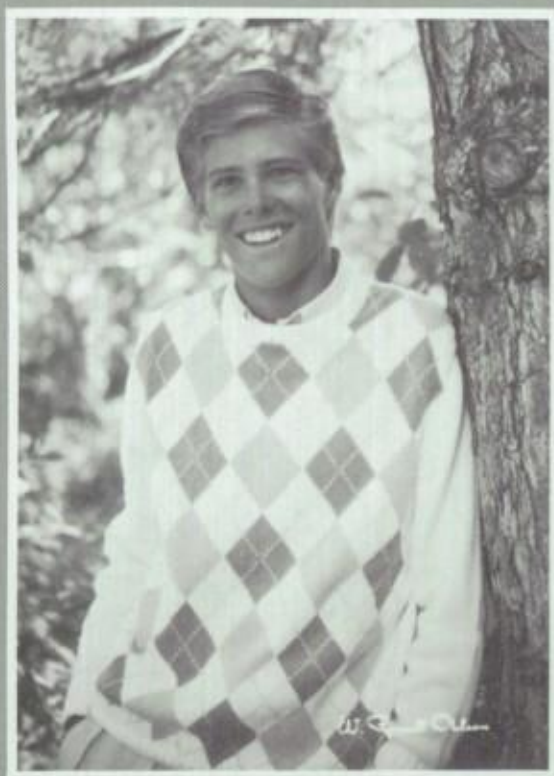

Scholar

Our school also constitutes many diversified interests and aptitudes, and we, like Jefferson, can and will find our places of leadership and service.

Thomas Jefferson, whose spirit and influence lives today in our own school, was a man as varied in facets of learning as the modern school.

Leadership of the junior class this year was made up of all boys and through their leadership, the class forged ahead with many class activities, emphasis on fundraisers (Homecoming "Rowdy Rags" seemed the most popular) and a general feeling of pride for the whole class. As emphasized on these pages, the Class Council was on "par" for the course.

. . . The Next 25 Years

1960—Silver Anniversary—1985

Hall of Fame

Members of the Silver Anniversary Hall of Fame were selected by the faculty, administration and support staff (clerks, secretaries, etc.) This is the 25th year the selection has been made by the faculty with a criteria based upon academics, leadership, school and community contributions, athletics, among other considerations. This section is not to be confused with the "Super Spartans" in the Sports Section. The members appearing here are those considered by the instructional staff to be truly outstanding young Americans — leaders as TJ goes toward its 50th anniversary in the Year 2010. Autobiographical essays were written by the nominees.

She lettered three years in swimming, two years in tennis and went to state in tennis her sophomore year.

During her junior year she was a junior escort and was printed in the 1983-84 edition of Who's Who Among American High School Students.

Outside school she has been a member of the National Association of Girls' Clubs for 12 years and served as state and regional president in 1984-85. She also participated in prom, luncheon and graduation committees.

Rhonda plans to attend USC, SMU or CU and major in engineering and pre-med.

JULI FELDMAN who ranks in the top 10% of the class has been active in many school activities. Included in these activities: National Honor Society, Graduation, Prom and Homecoming committees, Atherfies and was crowned Homecoming Princess. She was a Junior Escort and a member of the National Forensic League, Citywide Symphonic and Marching bands, school band, French, Lettermen's, Pep and Speech clubs. Juli lettered as a member of the girls' swim team and manager of the boys' swim team.

In her junior year she became a cheerleader and was selected as a head cheerleader in her senior year. Outside school, Juli is involved in many activities associated with the Central Agency For Jewish Education. In her spare time she enjoys playing her flute, reading, swimming and watching old movies. Juli will attend Colorado State University and hopes to pursue a career in public relations and mass communications.

CAROL FORKNER has participated in many activities at TJ. She is vice president of National Honor Society and was a member of the club her junior year. She has been a member of the Latin Club, French Club and Red Cross. She was a Junior Escort. In her junior year she was an entrant in the Architectural Design Contest sponsored by the National Association of Women in Construction. She received an honorary award for academic achievement from Who's Who Among American High School Students and was awarded the National History and Government Award by the United States Achievement Academy. She is a member of the Prom and Graduation Committees.

Outside school Carol has been involved with her church youth group. She enjoys hiking, dancing, and playing the piano. Carol plans to attend the University of Denver or Colorado State University where she will major in journalism and mass communications.

SHAWN GARRETT being nominated as an outstanding senior was a pleasant surprise. Shawn has been involved in many activities at T.J., including Forensics, French Club, Junior Escorts, National Honor Society, Atherfies, and Graduation Committee. She has been involved in the community as well as in school for the past three years. Shawn received a travel scholarship to Takayama, Japan, in the summer of 1984. During her three-week stay, she enjoyed such delicacies as raw fish, squid and eel!

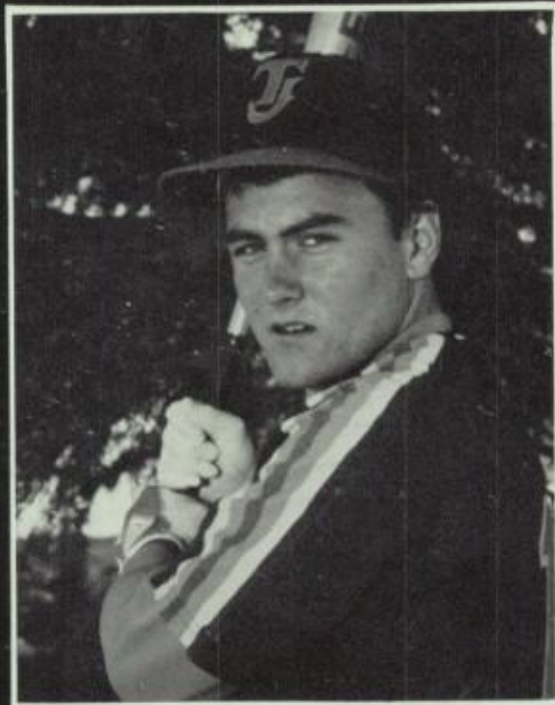

Shawn was employed for the remainder of the summer under the U.S.D.A. Research Apprenticeship program at a governmental research laboratory. In her spare time, Shawn enjoys partying, skiing, reading, writing and—admittedly—being lazy! Shawn has applied to several universities, but is leaning toward the idea of travelling and skiing before continuing on to college.

KENDA GREEN is proud to be an Outstanding Senior for the Class of 1985. Her favorite things about TJ are the people and the activities. Kenda was a member of the swim team her junior year. She served on Student Council as the Senior Class secretary/treasurer, attended the 1984-85 State Leadership Conference, and was a member of various committees such as Prom Committee, Graduation Committee, and Senior Luncheon Committee. In addition to her school activities, Kenda has held a job throughout all three years of high school, is a member of TJ's DECA club and Atherfies. In her spare time she likes to ski, swim, and spend time with her friends. Kenda's future plans include attending college at Drake University in Des Moines, Iowa, and someday becoming an attorney or a politician.

Charles (Chuck) Henebry

CHUCK HENEBRY has played varsity soccer and lettered his senior year. He served as vice-president of Spanish Club and participated in the Science Fiction Club. He played the role of Potiphar in the all-school musical Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat. Academically, he is in the top 5% of his class and received a Letter of Commendation for his PSAT scores. Outside school, he is an Eagle Scout and is involved in church activities. Chuck enjoys skiing, biking, Dire Straits, the Ogden Theater and Muddy's coffeehouse.

Joe Hornback

JOE HORNBACK has been involved in TJ athletics since his sophomore year, lettering in football, basketball and baseball. His teams have reached the state playoffs in football twice, basketball once and will hopefully reach state for third time in baseball this spring.

In junior year he was voted second team All-city defense in football and first team second base in baseball. His senior year Joe made 1st team defense on the all-city and Joint Effort teams and was picked captain of the football, basketball and baseball teams. He was a candidate for the Denver Post's All-Academic Golden Helmet Award. Joe currently has G.P.A. of 3.95 and is in the top 10% of his class. He would like to continue athletics at an undecided college but intends to concentrate on furthering his education.

RICHARD LEE has had an exciting, fun-filled three years at T.J. He was a member of the National Honor Society, serving as president in his senior year. He has been active in the Spanish Club and was involved as a junior escort and on the graduation committee. However, Rich's favorite activity has been the T.J. baseball team, playing junior varsity and then varsity as a senior. He is interested in most all sports, especially skiing and golf. He plans on attending an eastern college and future long-term career plans are undecided.

TANYA LEMAK has enjoyed her time spent here at TJ. For three years I competed on the varsity gymnastics team, twice winning City and the Linda Joy Antonio Traveling Plaque. She was a three-time state qualifier, a district champ and a team captain this year. She is the J.R.O.T.C. 8th Battalion Staff Supply Officer with the rank of first lieutenant. Through J.R.O.T.C., it was possible to win the Air Force Association Outstanding Aerospace Student of Colorado Award, a nomination as a candidate for Military Ball Queen, and a Congressional Nomination to the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy. She was a 1984 Junior Escort and a member of Atherfies. She accepted a full scholarship and will attend Utah State University.

TALIA MELANIE MCCRAY is a member of The Society of Distinguished American High School Students, Who's Who Among High School Students, and the National Honor Society.

During the summer of 1984, she received a scholarship to study at Colorado School of Mines. This program was designed to familiarize outstanding ethnic minority students with college engineering and science.

She is active in the United Methodist Church. She served on the National Youth Ministries Organization, (NYMO). She became national president of the Ethnic Minority Youth Concerns Committee which is a part of NYMO. In 1983 Talia was sent as a reporter to the International Christian Youth Conference in Nassau Bahamas. In 1984 I was elected a director of the General Board of Global Ministries. This board sets world wide policy concerning missionary work, and other social and religious issues.

Her ultimate goal is to become an engineering lawyer, an ambassador, or the first Black woman to serve on the US Supreme Court.

Lisa Peterson

LISA PETERSON has been involved in competitive figure skating since she was thirteen years old. She skates every morning before school at 5:00 a.m. and has been involved in many competitions and shows. Lisa is also involved in jazz and ballet dancing for 8-10 hours each week, and performed at Bonfils Theater in April. Lisa plays the piano and the flute and has been working at the University of Denver Ice Arena for over four years. She has been involved in National Honor Society, Atherfies, Junior Escorts, and French Club at school. She spent five weeks last summer traveling around France and living with a French family. Next year she plans to attend a four-year college and would like to spend a year studying abroad.

JOEL POMERANTZ is currently the All School vice-president, treasurer of the National Honor Society, and president of the Science Fiction Student Foundation, a club he founded in his junior year. For two years he has written for the Jefferson Journal, submitting humorously bizarre commentaries on existence. He has been a member of the Spanish and Pre-Med Clubs, has been captain of the Olympics of the Mind team, and member of TJ's illustrious JETS TEAMS team. He has been named a National Merit Commended Student, a Junior Escort, and last summer represented TJ at a National Leadership Training Center in Estes Park.

He has been on both the Track and Cross Country teams, and he is currently writing a science-fiction comedy. His hobbies include listening to Oldies and the music of Bruce Springsteen, the movies of Stanley Kubrick and Woody Allen, stand-up comedy, and smurf hunting. He hopes to attend a college on the East coast and eventually pursue a career that will involve science, writing, comedy and star throwing.

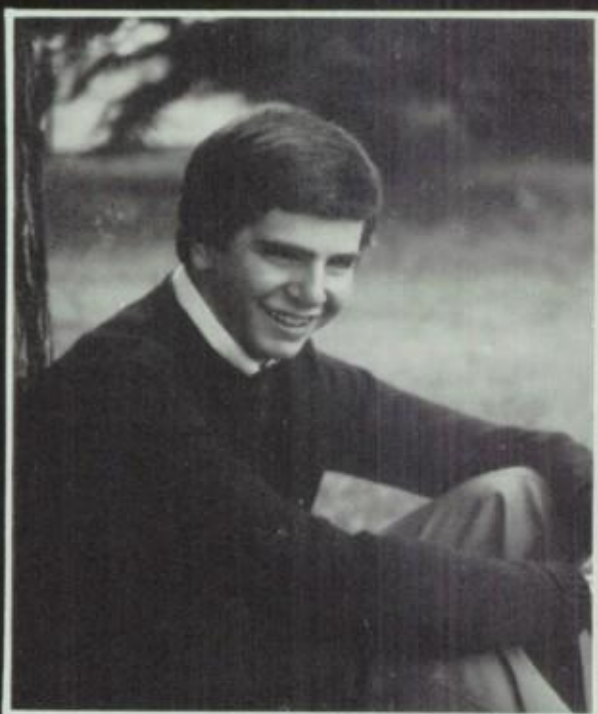

ANDREA RANSOM has been an active member of TJ's sports scene for three consecutive years. She holds the unique honor of being one of only two young ladies who have lettered all three years in three different sports—cross country, basketball, and track. Each year, Andrea has earned All-City First Team status in basketball and has qualified for State in track.

Even with heavy emphasis on sports, Andrea knows what her number one priority is and she takes it very seriously—academics. Andrea maintains a GPA above 4.0 with honor courses and has been a member of the National Honor Society since her junior year.

Other honors for Andrea include: selection in Who's Who Among American High School Students 1984-85; a Junior Escort for the Class of 1984; and a member of the Royal Court for the 1985 Senior Prom. Outside school, Andrea plays the piano and has participated in Junior Olympic basketball at the Regional and National levels. Andrea plans to attend UCLA where she will major in Computer Science.

GARY SUSMAN is ranked second in the class of 1985. He was a national winner of the National Council Teachers of English essay contest and a National Merit semifinalist. He also was a candidate for residential Scholar. Gary was a senior class representative and is the music columnist for the Jefferson Journal. He is also a member of the National Honor Society and the Science Fiction Club. Last year, Gary was the Spanish club treasurer. He was a winner of the CU Alumni Book Award. Outside school, Gary is a car-rental agent at Cheaps Heaps, Inc. He is president of his AZA youth group chapter. Gary enjoys playing keyboards and writing songs for his band. He is planning to go to college "back East."

NANCY STRAUSS enjoys playing an active part in many activities. A member of TJ's Spanish Club, she served as president her junior year. She was inducted into the National Honor Society in 11th grade, and participated fully in its tutorial and community service programs. She was a Red Cross Youth, a Junior Escort, and is listed in Who's Who Among American High School Students.

Allison Truitt

ALLISON TRUITT has been involved in drama at T.J. for the past three years. She has had several leads in the fall and spring productions and was student director for Annie and Charley's Aunt. She is a four-star Thespian and holds the office of Thespian president. As a junior, she was the Sólóquian treasurer. She has been a member of the National Honor Society since she was a junior. This year she is the Atherfies secretary/treasurer and active in both the German and Spanish Clubs. Allison received the Junior Masonic Achievement Award and a letter of commendation for her scores on the PSAT. This past summer she spent several weeks studying German at the Goethe-Institute in Berlin. She enjoys backpacking, reading, and traveling.

Melanie Warmath

MELANIE WARMATH'S first love is golf. She has lettered three years on the boys' golf team. In Melanie's senior year she was the only female participant in the Colorado Boys' State Golf championship. Her summers have been occupied by playing competitive golf, both locally and nationally. She has also lettered in girls' tennis and participated on the girls' lacrosse team.

Beyond sports, Melanie has been an active member on Student Council, and she is presently serving as the All-School Political Representative. She is a member of Atherfies and is also serving on the Graduation and Prom committees. Melanie was selected to be in the 1984-1985 edition of "Who's Who Among American High School Students." Among Melanie's other honors is being selected as a nominee for Prom Queen. In the future, Melanie plans to play golf in college and to possibly pursue a career in art.

Honorable Mention

The following seniors received honorable mention to the Hall of Fame. 141 seniors were nominated to receive the Hall of Fame honor. Twenty-one were named to the Hall and thirty named to honorable mention category. All members of the Class of 1985 are truly outstanding; Hall of Famers should consider it a high honor accorded to them by the faculty; the honorably-mentioned seniors should hold that honor with high esteem.

Frank Welker, former Spartan, appeared in an assembly sponsored by the Aristocrat and Jefferson Journal. He is well-known in Hollywood as an impressionist. He also talked to Media classes, visited with many of his former teachers and busied himself with autographs for impressed Spartans.

Congratulations to the Class of '85'!

"Don't give up your dreams or your dreaming. Don't let life cut your line as you reel in those dreams . . . hold on tightly . . . keep reeling . . . don't give up . . . grab that net . . . and if they look like they are about to leap out of the net after you've caught 'em, jump in after 'em and keep on swimming till you drown if you have to . . . but don't ever let go of those dreams . . ." — Danielle Steele
